

Forthcoming Festschrift in honour of Asit K. Biswas

Guest editors: Cecilia Tortajada and Eduardo Araral

This Festschrift special issue in honour of Asit K. Biswas's 80th birthday is being prepared for publication in early 2020 and will include invited contributions from leaders in the public and private sectors as well as from academics who have made significant contributions to the field of water resources research. The vision and expertise of this distinguished group will provide a unique focus on unfolding water issues and their bearing on world development.
